

UNISON ACTIVISTS CALL FOR A 'YES' VOTE FOR A FAIRER SCOTLAND

We, the undersigned UNISON activists in Scotland, believe that a YES vote (rather than a NO vote) in the forthcoming independence referendum represents the best option for our members and fellow public sector workers, their families and, indeed, a unique opportunity that should be seized on behalf of generations to come. We believe that it also offers the trade union movement the chance to re-energise and re-focus.

We are members of a variety of political parties and none, but we share a belief that by asserting our right to determine our own future in an independent Scotland we stand an improved chance of realising our aspirations. As trade unionists, we have a vision of a better and more stable world, freed from domination by global corporations who have a stranglehold on the United Kingdom's political system. We believe that through self-determination we can begin to tackle inequality and create a Fairer Scotland whose human and natural assets will be used for the benefit of all rather than profit for a few. We believe that this will offer a beacon of hope to trade unionists and fellow workers in other parts of the United Kingdom, and inspire them to seek alternatives to the Westminster elite's market-driven austerity policies, that are damaging public services and the people they serve.

We call upon our fellow UNISON members to vote YES on September 18th 2014 for a Fairer Scotland.

NAME	BRANCH / NATIONAL POSITION	BRANCH
COLIN TURBETT	CHAIRPERSON	NORTH Ayrshire L.G.
DUNCAN SMITH	CHAIRPERSON	CITY OF EDINBURGH
Caroline McCrean	Welfare officer	" " "
ANDREA KAY	AN YOUNG MEMBERS OFFICER	ARGYLL + BUTE
GARRY KEENEY	INTERNATIONAL OFFICER	ARGYLL + BUTE
David Wilson	Treasurer	Clackmannanshire
Seema Arshad	Shop Steward	Clackmannanshire
Adanna McCue	Welfare Officer	Falkirk
Brian Smith	Chairperson	Shetland L.S.
CHEBELYNN WISEMAN	TREASURER	SHETLAND L.S.
TAHIR MOHAMMED	SECRETARY	SOA
Tahir.Mohammed@gmail.com

UNISON ACTIVISTS CALL FOR A 'YES' VOTE FOR A FAIRER SCOTLAND

We, the undersigned UNISON activists in Scotland, believe that a YES vote (rather than a NO vote) in the forthcoming independence referendum represents the best option for our members and fellow public sector workers, their families and, indeed, a unique opportunity that should be seized on behalf of generations to come. We believe that it also offers the trade union movement the chance to re-energise and re-focus.

We are members of a variety of political parties and none, but we share a belief that by asserting our right to determine our own future in an independent Scotland we stand an improved chance of realising our aspirations. As trade unionists, we have a vision of a better and more stable world, freed from domination by global corporations who have a stranglehold on the United Kingdom's political system. We believe that through self-determination we can begin to tackle inequality and create a Fairer Scotland whose human and natural assets will be used for the benefit of all rather than profit for a few. We believe that this will offer a beacon of hope to trade unionists and fellow workers in other parts of the United Kingdom, and inspire them to seek alternatives to the Westminster elite's market-driven austerity policies, that are damaging public services and the people they serve.

We call upon our fellow UNISON members to vote YES on September 18th 2014 for a Fairer Scotland.

NAME	BRANCH / NATIONAL POSITION	BRANCH
Jim Burnett	BRANCH SECRETARY	EAST DUNBARTONSHIRE
John Kern	Education Officer	South Ayrshire
Al Kerr (AMANDA KERR)	BRANCH SEC. EDINBURGH
LA CORNA DUNN	Edinburgh Branch
(Tony Calbery) ROBIN TAGGART	STIRLING COUNCIL, INT. OFFICER BRANCH SECRETARY	INVERLIDGE
GORDON COSSAR	BRANCH VICE-CHAIR, & STEWARDS	EAST Ayrshire BRANCH
Andy Douglas	STIRLING COUNCIL BRANCH	STIRLING TREASURER
Debbie Reilly	Whin Heath

UNISON ACTIVISTS CALL FOR A 'YES' VOTE FOR A FAIRER SCOTLAND

We, the undersigned UNISON activists in Scotland, believe that a YES vote (rather than a NO vote) in the forthcoming independence referendum represents the best option for our members and fellow public sector workers, their families and, indeed, a unique opportunity that should be seized on behalf of generations to come. We believe that it also offers the trade union movement the chance to re-energise and re-focus.

We are members of a variety of political parties and none, but we share a belief that by asserting our right to determine our own future in an independent Scotland we stand an improved chance of realising our aspirations. As trade unionists, we have a vision of a better and more stable world, freed from domination by global corporations who have a stranglehold on the United Kingdom's political system. We believe that through self-determination we can begin to tackle inequality and create a Fairer Scotland whose human and natural assets will be used for the benefit of all rather than profit for a few. We believe that this will offer a beacon of hope to trade unionists and fellow workers in other parts of the United Kingdom, and inspire them to seek alternatives to the Westminster elite's market-driven austerity policies, that are damaging public services and the people they serve.

We call upon our fellow UNISON members to vote YES on September 18th 2014 for a Fairer Scotland.

NAME	BRANCH / NATIONAL POSITION	BRANCH
Shona McBean	As Branch Comms Officer	Angus Council
Susan Mackie	8 Skills Development Scotland member	SDS
Jim Cooper	Dumfries & Galloway Comms Officer

UNISON ACTIVISTS CALL FOR A 'YES' VOTE FOR A FAIRER SCOTLAND

We, the undersigned UNISON activists in Scotland, believe that a YES vote (rather than a NO vote) in the forthcoming independence referendum represents the best option for our members and fellow public sector workers, their families and, indeed, a unique opportunity that should be seized on behalf of generations to come. We believe that it also offers the trade union movement the chance to re-energise and re-focus.

We are members of a variety of political parties and none, but we share a belief that by asserting our right to determine our own future in an independent Scotland we stand an improved chance of realising our aspirations. As trade unionists, we have a vision of a better and more stable world, freed from domination by global corporations who have a stranglehold on the United Kingdom's political system. We believe that through self-determination we can begin to tackle inequality and create a Fairer Scotland whose human and natural assets will be used for the benefit of all rather than profit for a few. We believe that this will offer a beacon of hope to trade unionists and fellow workers in other parts of the United Kingdom, and inspire them to seek alternatives to the Westminster elite's market-driven austerity policies, that are damaging public services and the people they serve.

We call upon our fellow UNISON members to vote YES on September 18th 2014 for a Fairer Scotland.

NAME

BRANCH / NATIONAL POSITION

BRANCH

Louise Giblin SEPA International Officer

UNISON ACTIVISTS CALL FOR A 'YES' VOTE FOR A FAIRER SCOTLAND

We, the undersigned UNISON activists in Scotland, believe that a YES vote (rather than a NO vote) in the forthcoming independence referendum represents the best option for our members and fellow public sector workers, their families and, indeed, a unique opportunity that should be seized on behalf of generations to come. We believe that it also offers the trade union movement the chance to re-energise and re-focus.

We are members of a variety of political parties and none, but we share a belief that by asserting our right to determine our own future in an independent Scotland we stand an improved chance of realising our aspirations. As trade unionists, we have a vision of a better and more stable world, freed from domination by global corporations who have a stranglehold on the United Kingdom's political system. We believe that through self-determination we can begin to tackle inequality and create a Fairer Scotland whose human and natural assets will be used for the benefit of all rather than profit for a few. We believe that this will offer a beacon of hope to trade unionists and fellow workers in other parts of the United Kingdom, and inspire them to seek alternatives to the Westminster elite's market-driven austerity policies, that are damaging public services and the people they serve.

We call upon our fellow UNISON members to vote YES on September 18th 2014 for a Fairer Scotland.

NAME	BRANCH / NATIONAL POSITION	BRANCH
------	----------------------------	--------

Lynn Sheridan	EC officer co-chair LGIT Comm.
---------------	--------------------------------------	--

lynn.sheridan@geu.ac.uk		GEU
-------------------------	--	-----

David Cheye	Branch Secretary Skills Development Scotland
-------------	--	--

DAVID STARK	COMMUNICATIONS OFFICER SKILLS DEVELOPMENT SCOTLAND
-------------	---	--

UNISON ACTIVISTS CALL FOR A 'YES' VOTE FOR A FAIRER SCOTLAND

We, the undersigned UNISON activists in Scotland, believe that a YES vote (rather than a NO vote) in the forthcoming independence referendum represents the best option for our members and fellow public sector workers, their families and, indeed, a unique opportunity that should be seized on behalf of generations to come. We believe that it also offers the trade union movement the chance to re-energise and re-focus.

We are members of a variety of political parties and none, but we share a belief that by asserting our right to determine our own future in an independent Scotland we stand an improved chance of realising our aspirations. As trade unionists, we have a vision of a better and more stable world, freed from domination by global corporations who have a stranglehold on the United Kingdom's political system. We believe that through self-determination we can begin to tackle inequality and create a Fairer Scotland whose human and natural assets will be used for the benefit of all rather than profit for a few. We believe that this will offer a beacon of hope to trade unionists and fellow workers in other parts of the United Kingdom, and inspire them to seek alternatives to the Westminster elite's market-driven austerity policies, that are damaging public services and the people they serve.

We call upon our fellow UNISON members to vote YES on September 18th 2014 for a Fairer Scotland.

NAME

BRANCH / NATIONAL POSITION

BRANCH

SARAH COLLINS

BRANCH SECRETARY

EAST AYRSHIRE

Brian Reid
Eileen Purves

BRANCH EDUCATION CO-ORDINATOR
Chairperson

EAST AYRSHIRE
Mid Ayr

Andy McJannet
Wanda Atkinson

BRANCH SECRETARY

MIDLOTHIAN

E. McCafferty

BRANCH CHAIR

ROXBURGHSHIRE

Eileen McElroy

Roxburghshire Council

~~John~~

Welfare Officer

Roxburghshire

CHRIS STEPHENS

TREASURER / VICE-CHAIR

GLASGOW CITY

Sam Macartney

Conditions of Service Officer

Glasgow City

Mary Dews

ABS-Conditions of Service Officer

Cum gratia City

Sarah Rogers

Young members Officer

West Lothian

Catherine Warren

TREASURER

WEST Lothian

Brendan Mochon

SECRETARY

WEST Lothian

~~ALUN WILLIAMS~~

~~SECRETARY~~

PENSIONS CHAMPION /
WELFARE OFFICER

ABERDEEN
CITY